HASKELL MAY FAVOR PIPE LINE

INTERSTATE CONFERENCE TO DIS-CUSS FEASIBILITY OF THE SCHEME.

INDEPENDENT PRODUCERS PLAN

Texas, Arkansas and Louisiana May Join Oklahoma in Project.

Guthrie, Ok., Sept. 24.—Commissions to be named by Governors of Louisiana, Texas and Arkansas to ascertain what moral or financial support Oklahoma can secure in the proposed state oil pipe line project was the result of a conference today between the governor and Senators Strain and Yeager, the latter representing independent oil producers. The independents are represented as being at the mercy of the Standard and alleged allied interests, in the Oklahoma Mid-Continent field. While not expressing himself to the newspaper reporters, the Governor is represented as taking kindly to the idea, and will give the state's support if it can be profitably carried out.

Both Senators were also in conference with Assistant Attorneys General Reeves and Spillman over the legal phase of the project, it here being agreed that the Constitution authorizes the state to engage in business for public purposes, and provided one method, through an issue of state bonds, for so doing. To accomplish this, it is necessary for the legislature to pass an act, which must be referred to the people at the next general election. A special election can not be called for that purpose.
The one question of doubt was one state's power to acquire rights in another state without consent of such state, and to determine this is one of the purposes of the proposed trips to Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas.

Two other plans for financing the state oil pipe line are available. The oil producers who are to be benefitted by the project, may be asked to double their gross production tax for a stated period, which would furnish the state with funds for the work, or the matter could be handled through the initiative and referendum by a special tax being voted by the people for the specific purpose of constructing the pipe line. In the latter event, an election may take place as soon as petitions are signed and filed with the secretary of state.

Gov. Haskell left for Muskogee tonight via Oklahoma City. Tomorrow he will confer with Eastern Oklahoma oil men and refinery operators, among them Charles T. Madison of Muskogee. Mr. Madison was formerly of Monroe, La., and erected an independent refinery in Muskogee some time ago. The plant has been sold and he is organizing another. He will probably be one of the commissioners to visit other states.

If the line should be extended through Arkansas it would lay only to the Mississippi river, from where the oil could be barged to New Orleans. The route through Louisiana would end at New Orleans with exporting facilities, while the Texas route is planned to reach Galveston.
Texas has oil refiners to the exclusion of the other states, as a commercial proposition it is believed the oil would fit other states, and as a commercial proposition it is believed the oil would find a more ready sale in that state. The matter of a special session of the legislature has been deferred until the proposed commission reports.

FLYING CONTESTS BEGIN SUNDAY

Aviators from all Sections to Take Part.

Berlin, Sept. 24.—The international flying contests which begin next Sunday at Pöhlmannthal, near Berlin, promise to be successful. The competitions are being held under the direction of the German Aeronautic association, the Imperial Aero Club and the Imperial Automobile club. The contest will continue for one week.

Among the aeroplanists who are to take part are Bleriot, Latham, Farman, Edwards, Fournier, DeCarter and Besa. Orville Wright has not yet announced his decision to participate.

PONTOTOC COUNTY AT STATE FAIR

If there has been any arrangements made for a city or county exhibit or display at the State Fair this fall, we have not heard of it. Wonder why somebody has not done something in this respect? A county that ranks among the first in varied and creditable resources, like Pontotoc, and a city of progress push and enterprise like Ada, should certainly have an exhibit at the State Fair which would be representative.

POLICE DEPARTMENT BEING PROBED

MAYOR DOING DUTY—PISTOL DUEL THOUGH NEAR TRAGEDY, WAS DISGRACEFUL—INJURES CITY.

The public who understand will endorse the position of the mayor, L. J.
Little, in the official action taken in connection with the Culver-Mitchell shooting affair, an affair though nearly extremely tragical, was no less disgraceful and the party or parties responsible therefor deserves an unequivocal rebuke from the administration of the city.

Ada, less than any community probably in the state, under the late and present status of conditions, can afford to entrust the peace and safety of its people to officers whose petty personal jealousies not only entirely reduce their official worth, but more grievous still, which not only effices their value to the city, which they are employed to serve, but more, creates the gravest apprehension among the people for the safety of their homes and local government and any sort of decent reputation abroad. Such bravery as exercised by the reckless peace officers of the city Wednesday evening could hardly be relished by any citizen, no matter what his code of honor.

The personal conduct of the peace officers of the city should be above reproach and their official integrity should be so clearly above suspicion that the time of any one could not be required to pursue the other whom he thought was violating the law.

It appears that the city administration will probe the conduct of its police officers to the bottom and if the facts ascertained justify will reorganize that department.

The integrity and intelligence of the legislative department of the city administration, the mayor, the executive of the city, commands the complete confidence of the people. The public will not believe that the mayor has conspired with any particular officer for the purpose of destroying another. The police committee of the city headed by Mayor Little and directed by City Attorney James Webb, have not concluded its examination of the trouble leading up to the pistol duel between Messrs. Culver and Mitchell, but will resume hearing the first of the week, when it is thought Police Chief Culver's strength will enable him to be present.

"RESUBMISSION" THUNDERS BILL CARDWELL

Shawnee, Sept. 25.—W. D. Cardwell, of Oklahoma City, who has for years been active in democratic councils, declares resubmission of the liquor question will have a far-reaching effect upon the political fortunes of democracy unless the question is disposed of finally before the next annual election.

Mr. Cardwell, who came over yesterday to deliver an address on resubmission at the city hall, said yesterday evening:

"There is to my mind but one thing to prevent Oklahoma from electing a democratic state administration next year. Re-submission of the prohibition question is the demand of the hour. It is growing throughout the state. In case the powers that be refuse to permit a vote on the question before the next election I believe the people will repudiate the party and elect a republican governor."

"We will file not less than 60,000 signatures to the re-submission petitions with the secretary of state not later than March 1st, next, probably much sooner. It is then up to the governor to call a special election if he so desires; any how our petition must be voted upon at the general election to be held November, 1910.
It is immaterial with us when the election is held, although our petitions ask for a special election. The calling of the election is optional with the governor, but if he refuses to call a special election, the question must be submitted at the general election in November. We are in no hurry to file our petitions, and we want the people to become thoroughly conversant with our proposed constitutional amendment as it is the best argument in favor of our cause."

OVER HUNDRED DEAD.

Further Advice Received from Stricken Districts of Terre Bonne Parish, in Louisiana.

Houma, La., Sept. 24.—The trip of the relief boat Harry through the Little and Grand Caillon districts of Terre Bonne Parish has revealed the extent of the storms frightful ravages. The death list will exceed 100.
When the Harry returned last night she was greeted by hundreds of people anxious for news from the stricken districts.

The Harry brought in seventy-five persons, mostly women and children, in a sad plight. They were turned over to the Houma committee and housed in a cannery establishment and well fed and supplied with clothing. The Harry's trip was a mission of mercy. She passed through a country laid waste. Desolation was on every hand. Tidal waters swept the entire southern section of the parish for more than twenty miles inland.

Tuesday while the Harry crept slowly through the canal connecting Payou Terre Bonne with Little Caillon the waters were still running high. Wrecked homes in the dismantled hovels, debris from nobody knew where, these greeted the eyes of the rescuing party. Buzzards soared above the bodies of horses, cows and muskrats left in places from which the tidal waters had receded Thursday. Dead pelicans were scattered here and there, and even sea gulls and herons were killed by the hundreds. Fish carrier into strange quarters by rushing waters were later left to flounder in mudpuddles and die. Vultures hovered over these pools Thursday. Now and then a milch cow standing almost to her head in water could be seen.

Several persons were found clinging to cross trees and later rescued and taken aboard the relief boat. At daylight a 4-year-old child was picked from the branches of a tree. The tot had been in its lodging place since Monday. Ennis Rhodes, who was rescued, gave a graphic story of the loss of his family when the storm battered his home to pieces. A wave dashed the raft and its human freight against a tree and all went down. An ex-convict en route from the state prison to his home was lost somewhere before seeing his loved ones. The loss of Henry Neff's family involves a sad story. He was out getting oysters and when he fought his way back to where his home had been in Little Caillon he found his family gone. He went in search of its members and has not been heard from. The man found the bodies of four members of his family. He buried them in a hole and left, saying he never would return. The Harry picked up a mother and her new born babe. She gave birth to the child in a frail boat. She had several other children with her.

DIGGING FOR OIL.

The Prospective Oil or Gas Hole Near City a Reality.

Word from the prospective oil well a mile west of the city relates that the hole is more than a hundred feet deep and the work is progressing nicely. The News will keep its readers posted as to the progress of the well, from time to time.

Durant's New Theater Opens.

Durant, Ok., Sept. 24.—The new Durant theater was formally opened on Wednesday night, the "Alaskan" being the opening bill. The house was filled to its fullest capacity. The new cheater fills a long felt want in Durant and is sufficiently large and well arranged to accommodate the best shows making cities of the 25-000 class.

Save One Hundred Per Cent.

You're going to have this coming fall, a chance to buy and wear the best clothes in the world; the kind of clothes that well-dressed men are always glad to buy.

Hart Schaffner & Marx Clothes are to be the feature of our line the coming season; and we want every man of you to know it early, and keep it in mind for the time when you next think of buying clothes.

We are making a specialty of these goods because we want you to get the greatest possible value for your money. You want value; that's the only real way to economize in clothes; and value means the sort of quality HART SCHAFFNER & MARX put into their goods. They're all-wool, in every thread of the fabrics; they represent the products of the best weavers in the world, and they offer a greater variety for your selection than you'll find in any half dozen other makes put together.

But all-wool, vitally important as it is to your interests as a wearer, is not the only thing we know about Hart Schaffner & Marx quality. These clothes are designed right; the whole question of fit depends on that; and it's important to you to know that you can be correctly fitted without trouble here. They're correct in style, of course; and perfectly tailored; these makers know their business well enough not to spoil good all-wool fabrics, fine linings and trimmings by designing and tailoring that are wrong. Hart Schaffner & Marx are the best clothes makers in the world; and every dollar of value they put into the goods is there for you to get out in the wear.

There's a lot of inferior, cotton-mixed clothing in the market; pretty poor stuff, some of it. It looks pretty good; enough so to enable dealers to charge a good price for it; it isn't as a rule worth what it costs.

COTTON STILL JUMPING.

Storm News Pushes Price of White Staple Upward.

New York, Sept. 24.—At the opening this morning the cotton market was extremely nervous and first prices were 11 points higher on October and 8 points lower to 2 points up on other positions.

In the case of October, which started decidedly higher, room traders had the idea that this month was put up to sell other months on, and for a time it looked as if there was an organized effort to hammer the list.

Bears soon realized, however, that the market was too broad for ordinary tactics to be successful and promptly abandoned their selling movement, prices immediately rising up to 12 points, passing yesterday's high level. Trade continued on a large scale.

Most of the big commission houses were swamped with buying orders and clerks were working last night until after midnight.

The South, Wall street and Western interests were all buyers. The storm news continued very bullish and inspired most of the support.

The action of the market toward 2 o'clock was almost a renewal of yesterday's sensational movement.
Heavy general buying, including a scramble of shorts, short prices up to a new high level for the season and 13 to 15 points over yesterday's close.

A report that Patten and Gates were supporting the market gave public buying fresh confidence and commission houses did an enormous business.

In the South the spot markets advanced sharply, scoring gains of 1-8c over yesterday's quotations.

In the last hour the market ruled extremely feverish, but support from the Western grain interests and a steady stream of outside buying orders easily absorbed the cotton thrown on the market by realizing longs. Many traders who are firm believers in 15c cotton later, evened up their lines and stood aside to await further developments by the big outsiders who are plainly in control of the present situation. The close was easy at a net advance of 5 to 11 points, very heavy realizing developing in the last few minutes.

BAPTISMAL SERVICE TONIGHT

Big Chart Sermon at the Christian Church.

There was a fine spirit in the meeting last night. Evangelist Kindred spoke on the N. T. church. There were two accessions to the church.
The evangelist announced that tonight he would use a large chart, the subject being the Heavenward Way.

The subject at 11 a. m. Sunday will be the Christian Soldier. At 3 p. m. a special meeting will be held at the church, the subject being How God Draws Men.

At 7:45 p. m. the closing service in this series of meetings will be held.
The church extends a cordial invitation to the public, and expresses its thanks for the appreciation and help in these meetings.

Mrs. Ethel Shanafelt went to Atoka this morning.

ANTI-PROHIBITION MEETING.

Arrangements Made for Monster Gathering at Birmingham to Protest Against Amendment.

Birmingham, Ala., Sept. 24.—Arrangements were made last night for what is believed will be the largest political gathering ever held in Alabama, a rally to be held in Birmingham Saturday, Oct. 2, to protest against the adoption of the prohibition amendment to the state constitution.
The speakers' stands will be erected around Capital Park, two speakers will be placed on each platform and speaking will be conducted from each stand simultaneously. Excursions will be run to Birmingham from all North Alabama points. The meeting was arranged by Campaign Manager J. Lee Long, who has been in conference with local anti-amendment leaders for two days.

SOUTH'S LIST OF STORM VICTIMS SLOWLY GROWS

Reaches Over One Hundred and Indications Point to More Deaths.

New Orleans, Sept. 24.—With the list of dead from Monday's tropical hurricane well above a hundred tonight, every indication points to a much larger increase of the number of victims. Many small sloops and launches are lying wrecked on the gulf shores of Louisiana and Mississippi, and there seems to be little doubt that some of their occupants were lost.

News of the loss of the oyster lug-ger "Washington" and the drowning of her captain, Dominic Bondy, was received here today. Many additional stories of suffering were brought in today.

Hon. Lee Cruce, whom his friends declare is positively a candidate for Governor.

At Mrs. Chaney's.

On Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock the new and attractive home of Mrs.
W. K. Chaney in Sunrise, was open to her many friends, the occasion being a social gather where 42 was the absorbing attraction.

The guests were received by the hostess and were conducted into the dining room by Mrs. A. J. Chapman where grape juice was served. From thence to the library by Mrs. Douglas Lasater, where the 42 tables were neatly arranged.

After an hour set apart for the game, the guests were served with frozen punch and angel food cake.

During the entertainment excellent music was furnished by the negro orchestra.

Cherokees Accept Flag.

Guthrie, Ok., Sept. 24.—Congressman Charles E. Creager of the Third Oklahoma District makes the official announcement that the Cherokee Indians have accepted from President Taft the flag that floated over the White House on his inauguration day.
Such action was taken by the Indians on Aug. 16, says Mr. Creager, notwithstanding previously published reports that the Indians turned the offer down. "And more," says Creager, "the Indians are very proud of their present."

Twelfth Street Paving.

The Twelfth street paving will be a finished job next week. When it is finished Twelfth street invites Main street to come up and view the first paved street of the city, that they may congratulate themselves that they are preparing to follow suit.

persons holding the lucky numbers at the Grand Leader drawing this afternoon: First number 11,204, Ruth Weaver, second, 11,594, Clyde Rollin; third, 15,565, M. B. Brick; fourth, 15-287, Lily McKindry.

Acting Officers.

lice and J. B. Gay is acting night watchman.

MRS. GORE ILL.

"The Little Brown Eyed Woman," Whom the People of Oklahoma Love, Guest of the Ligans.

The ladies of the city and the public generally regret very much the continued illness of Mrs. T. P. Gore, during her visit in its midst with her distinguished husband, the Senator.

The State of Oklahoma is indeed very fond of Mrs. Gore, for it devotedly remembers it was she ("The Little brown eyed woman, God bless her," who conducted the Senator's correspondence from the little home at Lawton during that memorable first campaign and mailed from there the "Macedonian message" of her great husband to the people. Senator and Mrs. Gore are at the home of their well-long and devoted friends, the Ligans in Sunrise.

No Interference by Governor.

Guthrie, Ok., Sept. 24.—Unless Oklahoma City people make a better showing than they have up to date why County Attorney Reardon of Oklahoma County should not prosecute certain city and county officers on charges in connection with violations of the prohibition law, Governor Haskell will not direct the Attorney General to take charge of the cases. Mayor Scales of Oklahoma City appeared before Gov. Haskell in Muskogee yesterday when it was understood that specifications were laid before him against the advisability of leaving control of the cases with the county attorney. The grand jury investigation to begin in Oklahoma City Monday next will have to do, the governor was told, with prominent city and county officials. No answer was given yesterday, but Gov. Haskell came to Guthrie during the night and gave County Attorney Reardon a hearing in executive chambers this morning. During the day he sent word to Mayor Scales that unless charges of a more definite nature were presented, showing why County Attorney Reardon could not with fairness to the state and the persons under investigation, conduct the inquiry, he

PAVING RESOLUTION NO. 8.

A Resolution to pave a portion of Main Street, Broadway and Townsend Avenue.

Be It Resolved by the Mayor and the City Council of the City of Ada, Oklahoma:

FIRST: That it is necessary to pave Main street, of said City from the West side of the Right of Way of the St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad to the East side of the lots and tracts of land, as provided for in House Bill No. 231 of the Leg-

Act to Provide for the Improvement of Streets and other public places within cities of the first class by grading, paving macadamizing, curbing, guttering and draining the same, and declaring an emergency."

THIRD: That this resolution shall be published in six consecutive issues in the "Ada Evening News," a daily newspaper published and of

When Secretary Ballinger arrives in Oklahoma and sees Platt National Park at Sulphur, he will doubtless either order the park improved and put in decent shape, or else abandoned entirely. At a national park the patch of weeds and brush at Sulphur is a disgrace, not as well cared for as it was prior to the time the government made it a reserve and the people of Sulphur themselves had charge of it. There is plenty of good water in this park, but its advantages are sadly handicapped by lack of care and improvement.—Muskogee Times-Democrat.

A WHITE MAN AND NEGRO AND ORGAN

It was a white man trying to make a negro pay him for an organ. The debtor and creditor had a conflag on the street concerning the matter and each decided to go to the alley to discuss it further in order to get away from the curious crowd. They started and several on-lookers followed. Others saw these following, and they also followed. Others saw these, and they followed and so on until in a very few moments hundreds of people were crowding into the alley at the rear of Rollow's in order to see the organ collected for. At last reports the white man was still dunnin the negro for the organ in the presence of scores of on-lookers.

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 24.—That W. J. Bryan and Senator Bailey will meet here Monday in joint debate is the plan of democrats of El Paso. A telegram was received here today from Mr. Bryan accepting the invitation tendered him to return here and deliver a political speech on that day.

Many friends of Senator Bailey telegraphed him, asking him to meet Mr. Bryan here in joint debate. He replied that he had arranged to leave home for Washington tomorrow, but if Mr. Bryan would consent to a joint debate he would come here and meet him Monday.

A message has been sent to Mr. Bryan asking if he will consent to a joint debate, and a favorable answer is expected.

Major Lillie's buffalo herd grazed near by and also close was a Pawnee Indian village. The dinner was served from an old-time mess wagon, all the guests, reclining on the ground. Col. Cody declared the scene carried him back to forty years ago. Following the dinner short talks were made by Col. Cody, Major Lillie, Congressman McGuire and others.

WAR

May Be Openly Declared by Spain to End a Bitter Political Feud.

Madrid, Sept. 24.—It is generally believed here that complications which have arisen between Spain and the Sultan of Morocco, are likely to result in a Spanish Moroccan situation that means war between Spain and the forces of the Sultan, in distinction from the fighting going on today, which is limited to the Rif tribesmen. The government feels that only brilliant work begun in Morocco can defeat the plans of its political enemies at home. The minister of the interior insist that the government is not fighting its political enemies, but rather a wide spread anarchistic plot. Bomb explosions occur almost daily in Barcelona, but newspaper printing such facts are suppressed.

AFTER WRIGHT'S SCALP.

Indians at Medicine Springs Condemn Indian's Representative in Washington.

Coalgate, Okla., Sept. 24.—The official scalp of Dr. E. N. Wright, representative of the Choctaw and Chickasaw nations in Washington, is sought by the Indian association of those nations which held a meeting at Medicine Springs, near here, today. Resolutions were adopted condemning Dr. Wright for his adverse stand on the proposition of selling the 500,000 acres of segregated coal and asphalt lands of the Indians and demanding his removal as representative of the tribes and his recall from Washington. A committee was selected to apprise Governor Green McCurtain, of the Choctaw nation of the attitude of the association and Oct. 18 was fixed as a date to choose two representatives to succeed Dr. Wright.

Speak in Indian Tongues.

Seventy-five Indians of the two tribes attended the meeting, which was presided over by Lyman Worcester, a Choctaw, of Wapanucka. Speeches were delivered by Dorchester, Dr. G. W. Harkins, of Coalgate, secretary of the association; Mitchell King, of Legal, and Alexander Brown, of Medicine Springs. Each condemned Wright and declared what he had utterly failed to faithfully represent the tribes in Washington. All speeches were delivered in the Chickasaw and Choctaw tongues and no white persons participated.

Members of the association who have been circulating petitions throughout the two nations showing the attitude of the Indians toward the proposition of selling the segregated lands reported that 753 signatures of persons of Indian blood have been procured.

Would Repudiate Contract.

With few exceptions the members of the convention took a stand against the scheme of a law firm of the Choctaw nation to get fees aggregating an amount variously estimated at from $2,000,000 to $15,000,000, according to the volume of business transacted, from the individual citizens who would sign a contract to have the business transacted on a commission basis of 10 per cent. A majority of the members present today had signed this contract and a majority of those who have signed declared their intention of repudiating it.

Will Recall Wright.

Dr. Wright is charged with having misstated the position of the Indian with reference to the disposition of the segregated lands. In fact, the Indians assert that the intermarried citizens and whites, who heretofore have taken the lead in all matters pertaining to the affairs of the nations, have given the wrong impression to congress. Hence, hereafter two men in Washington are to be trusted rather than one and Wright will be called home.

Waiting for the End of Time.

West Duxbury, Mass., Sept. 24.—Inspired by conviction that today would bring the end of the world, over 300 members of the Latter Reign of Apostolic churches assembled about their places of worship early in the forenoon to await the destruction and purification of the world by fire, in fulfillment of their own prophecy. As the appointed time, ten o'clock neared, the little chapel was filled with believers who devoted their energies to singing hymns. Shortly before ten the skies darkened and those who had been watching for a sign appeared convinced that the millennium was at hand.

They Still Believe.

When ten o'clock came and the end was not yet, it was then explained that a revelation which was made to one of their number last night indicated the destruction was to be deferred until some time during twenty-four hours beginning at six o'clock tonight.

The faithful still continued confident that their prophecies will be fulfilled and they spent the remainder of the forenoon praying and singing hymns.

CUPID Versus SOOT

Miss Evelyn Tomlins raised the shade and peered out into the night. The rain beat heavily against the window pane.

"Mother," she said, "don't you think it would be a good evening to put up the dining-room stove? Surely nobody'll be in such a night as this."

"It isn't likely," admitted Mrs. Tomlins. "Still you know Frank Thompson has been here on just such nights. You ought to be presentable. How you'd look with your nose all soot and a calico dress on!"

"Oh, I don't care what Frank Thompson thinks," said Miss Tomlins, contemptuously.

Miss Tomlins' mother had often said that Evelyn would make some man a good wife some day, she was such a hustler. She was not afraid of soiling her hands, and when it came to a little matter like moving a stove, she didn't stand around and wait for her father to hire men.

"What's the use of spending a dollar twice a year on so insignificant an undertaking?" she said. "It's the simplest thing in the world, if one only has a little common sense. Just see how easy it is!"

Miss Tomlins, using a ten-foot scantling as a lever, demonstrated how trifling a thing it is to move a stove.

While Miss Tomlins and her parents were thus engaged, John Grosvenor, an eligible young bachelor, who had apartments, was making ready for an event he had contemplated for a week. Mr. Grosvenor had been introduced to Miss Tomlins at a gathering of mutual friends.

"It's a beastly night," he told himself, "but what's the difference? She's pretty sure to be at home, and it'll be all the cosier. Besides, I'm not likely to find other fellows there."

Mr. Grosvenor spent ten minutes adjusting his tie.

"I wonder what sort of a girl she is at home?" he mused. "A fellow can't judge a woman fairly until he sees her under domestic conditions. In society Miss Tomlins is a stunner. On first acquaintance she certainly attracts."

Mr. Grosvenor called a cab. "There's the doorbell!" exclaimed Mrs. Tomlins, in dismay. "Dear me! Evelyn, you're a perfect sight!"

Mrs. Tomlins looked at Miss Tomlins and Miss Tomlins looked at her mother. It was hard to tell which was the blacker. Mr. Tomlins at the moment was on the step ladder, posing a length of stovepipe.

"We won't go to the door!" Mrs. Tomlins decided.

"It might be a telegram, or something," said Miss Tomlins. "Anyway, I'm going to take chances."

Mr. Grosvenor and Miss Tomlins stood confronted. "Come in," said Miss Tomlins, covering her confusion in transparent bravado. "You're just in time to help put up the stove."

"Well," said Mrs. Tomlins, after the caller had departed, "that's the end of him. Evelyn, why will you be so contrary? You know I tried to get you to make yourself presentable to-night. Somehow you always manage to upset every desirable marriage prospect that comes along. Mr. Grosvenor is highly spoken of, and he's got money enough."

"Now, mother!" protested Evelyn, coloring under the grime. "You know I don't want to marry Mr. Grosvenor. I don't care how much money he's got, and I don't care what he thinks of me. So there!"

"Well," concluded Mrs. Tomlins, "even suppose you don't want to marry him! What'll he think of you for receiving him in the parlor in such clothes, with soot all over them, and you, too?"

Mr. Grosvenor sat by his lonely fire-side that night until two o'clock.

"She's the sort of a girl a fellow ought to get," he mused. "I wonder if I could get her if I tried. Ten to one she's spoken for already. By George! she looked charming with that soot on her nose. I wonder how many girls would pitch in and help their fathers and mothers in that kind of style. Imagine Maud Farrington doing it! Soot on her nose! Never!"

Mr. Grosvenor laughed aloud. "She's the girl I've been looking for," he added.

And that is why Evelyn is Mrs. Grosvenor now.

Elect Colored Woman President.
Mrs. Emma J. Wilson of Mayesville, S. C., a colored woman, has been elected president of a colored farmers' conference. This is an unusual honor for colored men to show a colored woman.

Mrs. Wilson started a school near Mayesville 27 years ago in a shed. It has now more than 500 pupils, a farm of 54 acres, four substantial buildings and 13 teachers. It is incorporated as the Mayesville Industrial institute, and in addition to a common school education it teaches colored boys and girls nine trades, including the making of bricks. The boys of the school build their own trades' building with bricks of their own making. Colored farmers from all parts of the state go to Mayesville to study the advanced methods used on the school farm, and an effort is now being made to have the government to establish an experiment station there. In the normal department teachers, men and women, are trained to take charge of colored schools.

REVEALED BY THE TONGUE.

In Many Ways the Organ of Speech is Capable of "Giving Away" Its Owner.

From the observations made a physiognomist it appears that the tongue when quite still can be as eloquent in giving its owner away as when it is wagging sixteen to the dozen. This is a hard fact for a silent man to swallow—in silence. His only remedy is to keep well so as to obviate the necessary injunction of the doctor to put his tongue out, for by this thrust out sign the doctor shall know him.

The tongue of the talker when obtruded inclines to the right side of the mouth, we are asked to believe, whereas the seldom used tongue gravitates to the left side. Orators, preachers and barristers are endowed with right sided tongues. Verbally paragonous persons have left sided tongues.

Furthermore, "the tongue that shoots out straight without turning or wavering indicates a solid, reliable man of affairs." Tongues that turn up indicate impractical natures. A downward, drooping tongue belongs to a person born to poverty and a ready eye for the hopeless side of things.

The cruel tongue flattens and broadens when extended. The delicate speaking organ with curled up edges is the property of an imaginative and artistic being. When the tongue issues forth as if gripped in a dental vise, it signifies a love of life more than ordinary.

Finally we are warned that the individual who thrusts forth his tongue to its extreme verge is a person to whom no secret should ever be confided, for he is an irresponsible chatterer.

Oldtime English Coachman Had Ideas That Would Shock Modern Exponents of Hygiene.

"I rode to Brighton one June day with Alfred Vanderbilt on his coach," said a Minneapolisite. "It was fine."

"We chatted, Mr. Vanderbilt and I, like two old friends, and the coach, tooting its horn, bowed out of London with all the cabbies giving us the whip salute, and soon struck the white road to the sea."

"As we glided along that white road, between groves loud with bird music, through quaint old villages and over hills that gave us glorious views of the sunny, windy downs, Mr. Vanderbilt told me stories of the old coachman of the past. It seems he collects, you know, coaching prints, rare old books on coaching, coaching anecdotes and so forth."

"One coaching anecdote he told me was about the way those fat red coachmen of old could endure the cold."

"On a January day of wind and sleet, he said, the coachman of the Liverpool mail made fun of a shivering passenger who shared the next seat with him."

"The coachman, red and comfortable in the storm, looked at the blue and shivering passenger with contempt. Finally he sneered and said: 'I daresay as yer one o' them girls wot washes their feet, eh? Well, there's a pair of feet in these 'ere boots of mine wot ain't been washed since I was a nipper. Wash my feet? I'd as soon think o' washin' my 'ead!'—Exchange."
